

Rising Star in Agriculture: Bizza Walters - KADAS Young Farmer of the Year 2023

Bizza Walters' recognition as the Kenilworth & District Agricultural Society's (KADAS) Young Farmer of the Year 2023 is a testament to her outstanding contributions to British Agriculture, as well as her hard work and unwavering support for young people within the industry.

Bizza's story begins amidst the rolling hills of her family's farm, where she cultivated a deep love for rural life from a young age. Her academic pursuits led her to Henley High and Bromsgrove School, followed by studies in Applied Farm Management at the Royal Agricultural University (RAU), where she honed her skills and knowledge for the farming world.

Beyond her studies, Bizza's dedication to the farming community extended into advocacy and community engagement. Active participation in the NFU Student and Young Farmer Ambassador Programme in 2022 saw her amplify the voices of her peers and champion agricultural causes nationwide.

Venturing into solo farming, Bizza established her own rare breed sheep flock of Greyface Dartmoors, showcasing a commitment to quality breeding and sustainable land stewardship. Her leadership within the Young Farmers' Club (YFC) community and influential social media presence highlight her dedication to bridging the gap between farmers and consumers, promoting agricultural awareness.

Reflecting on Bizza's journey, her impact on the agricultural landscape is significant. With each accolade and achievement, she paves the way for a brighter, more sustainable future for farming. As we look ahead, we eagerly anticipate the next chapter in her extraordinary story—a story fuelled by passion, perseverance, and a deep-seated love for the land. For those eager to follow Bizza's journey, a visit to her Instagram page @bizza.walters promises a captivating adventure.

Sponsored by the Warwickshire Agricultural Society

The Warwickshire Agricultural Society is proud to sponsor the KADAS Young Farmer of the Year competition. Involved in the rigorous judging stage, we were thrilled to see Bizza emerge victorious, winning not only the honour of being crowned the winner, but also a first prize of £500.

If you know someone like Bizza, who can showcase genuine expertise in their agricultural field, possess a strong work ethic, demonstrate proactive and forward-thinking qualities, and serve as an outstanding ambassador for farming and agriculture in the UK, nominate them now for the 2024 title. Entry criteria are simple:

- Must be under the age of 30 on 30th September 2024
- Currently employed in Agriculture
- Resides in Warwickshire County

Nominations can be submitted at www.kenilworthshow.co.uk/youngfarmer